Starrett Design Build – A Pioneering Firm of the Design Build Process in The Region’s Residential Construction Industry Celebrates 10 Years in Business

Locally owned design build firm marks a decade of delivering the design build process to residential clients, with continued focus on quality, transparency, and exceptional customer service

Hockessin, DE; February 2, 2026 -- Starrett Design Build, a locally owned and operated design build firm founded by Rachel and Eric Starrett, is celebrating its 10-year anniversary in business. The firm was among the first in the region to offer the design build process to residential clients. Over the past decade, the company has grown from a small operation into a trusted partner for seamless, high-quality building and renovation experiences.

Since its founding, Starrett Design Build has focused on simplifying the construction process for its clients by offering an integrated suite of services that accommodate several project delivery modalities. The firm’s in-house design build process takes clients through both design and construction. The benefits of an “all under one roof” process are efficiency, one point of contact for the client and a single entity that handles everything seamlessly. “A large portion of our clients are repeat business”, says Ms. Starrett, “We work hard to ensure our design build process delivers not only on quality construction but a superior customer service experience.”

These integrative processes and rigorous quality control have brought Starrett Design Build steady growth over the past decade. The firm has expanded its team, refined internal systems, while it continues to foster partnerships with many of the region’s top professionals. The firm also partners with outside architects and designers, operating as a builder that delivers added value beyond construction.

“My first exposure to design-build came while working as a PM for a large commercial operation on the 2012 Bayhealth expansion in Dover, where I developed a deep passion for the approach. It is incredibly efficient when all key stakeholders - architect, designer, client, and contractor - are engaged from the earliest stages of a project,” said Mr. Starrett.

Passion is what fuels Starrett Design Build at its core. The owners have woven their personal values into their business: belief in quality materials, proactive communication, honesty and integrity. “Trust and care are so important to us. We are in people’s private spaces, oftentimes working with people for a significant amount of time. It’s important to us that their experience is positive, design through construction,” said Ms. Starrett.

Each project is approached with close attention to detail and care, and each client has different needs and problems to solve. The firm has been able to curate personal experiences through processes that meet the particular needs of their clients and partners.

As Starrett Design Build looks ahead to its next decade, the firm remains focused on steady growth and continuing to foster relationships in the communities it serves.
